Number of Participants: 115

Introduction of speaker:

The speaker for the Seminar was Mr. Parag Khedkar, he is mechanical engineer with industrial and research experience of 32 years. He also holds total of 24 patents till date and has received a National level award for his invention from renowned scientist Dr. R. Mashelkar and he is currently working on 52 more inventions.

He is a six-sigma black belt and auditor for quality systems, he has also studied and experimented a lot in the area of creative thinking.

Seminar Details:

The program started with address note from HOD of mechanical department Prof. T. Y. Badgujar, in his note he advised the student participants to take the maximum benefit of the session and apply this knowledge in future.

The session of Mr. Parag Khedkar started with the brief history of IPR which actually starts from 500 BC. He has also discussed objective of IPR which is to provide protection against misappropriation and discussed this topic in detail.

In this knowledgeable session the speaker has discussed types of IPR in detail, types such as Patents, Industrial designs, Trademarks, Copyright, Geographical indications, Layout designs and integrated circuits. He has given the brief idea and basis of differentiation among the different types of IPR.

In the second part of session, he has discussed about how to register a patent with appropriate guidelines and the mistakes to be avoided while registering the patents.
